ST. THOMAS'S HOSPITAL

LONDON, S.E.

This Hospital is one of the Great Hospitals Endowed by King Edward VI in 1553

It was removed to its present site in 1871.

Her late Majesty Queen Victoria opened it in person in 1871

His Royal Highness The Duke of Connaught is President

• The Hospital has a record of 800 years' service for the Poor of this Vast Metropolis

The population of the immediate District has increased from 72,892 in 1862 to 1,664,104 in 1901

- During 1902, 74,400 individuals received attention

During the past few years extensive Alterations and Improvements have been carried out, rendered necessary by the advance both in the number of Patients claiming assistance, and the extraordinary development of Medical and Surgical Science

New Theatres and new Childrens Wards have been built, a new Casualty Department opened, and the Finsen Light for the treatment of Lupus is in full working order

• In 1871 the invaluable aid of fully trained Nurses was only beginning to be appreciated, now everybody recognises their services

The Hospital now needs the help of at least 250 of these hand maids of Doctors

• To provide adequate accommodation for this large number calls for the erection of a Nurses' Home, which has been authorised by

81·GT PORTLAND·ST
LONDON·W.

"HOW TO SELECT A LIFE OFFICE."

By G. M. DENT, F.S.S.

Extracts from a few Press Opinions.

MORNING POST.—"Mr. G. M. Dent, who is a Fellow of the Royal Statistical Society, has written a valuable pamphlet on Life Assurance, in which all the more important questions connected with the subject are discussed by a firm of merchants and an insurance broker. . . . There are two carefully-prepared tables."

STATIST.—"To those who may contemplate insurance, the expenditure of 1s. on this pamphlet will be a judicious outlay."

CITIZEN.—"The statistics as to Endowment assurance policies as investments are highly interesting and convincing."

FAIRPLAY.—"To those who contemplate taking out life policies, the expenditure of a shilling on this pamphlet may be recommended as the wisest step they could take. Every one should read it."

FINANCIAL TIMES.—"The elaborate tables are distinctly valuable. Carefully and skilfully compiled."

LAW JOURNAL.—"A cleverly-written dialogue. Both tables are explained with great lucidity."

PALL MALL GAZETTE.—"Armed with this pamphlet, and blessed with a little common sense, the ordinary man cannot go very far wrong."

UNITED SERVICE GAZETTE.—"The fact that this pamphlet has now reached its third edition amply demonstrates the value of its contents."

BELFAST NEWS LETTER.—"All who intend to insure their lives will find much useful information in this pamphlet."

BRADFORD OBSERVER.—"The remarks on Life Assurance as a paying investment deserve to be widely read."

DUNDEE ADVERTISER.—"An interesting study of the dialogues and tables given will more than repay the shilling outlay."

GLASGOW HERALD.—"Shows the features to which an intending assured should direct his attention before selecting a Company. The hints are given in the form of a dialogue, and there are numerous statistical tables."

LIVERPOOL MERCURY.—"Sets forth Life Assurance itself in the light of a first-class investment. Will commend itself to all classes of the community."

What Lemco is

Lemco is a pure, absolutely unflavoured meat extract prepared from the finest beef in the world. It is the original Liebig

Company's Extract, the most concentrated form of beef known. There is more beef concentrated in a pound of Lemco than in a pound of any other food in the world. Lemco is especially valuable for invalid cookery and for the preparation of light, nourishing, easily digested dishes. As a sick-room food Lemco can be retained by the most delicate stomach when all other food is rejected. It is the most powerful non-alcoholic stimulant known to medical science; its use is immediately followed by increased cardiac power.

OCCURRENCES of a later date than 15th September 1903 are not recorded.

From time to time the tables which formed the first part of Who's Who have been deleted, both for reasons of space and in order that the book might be more completely what it professes to be, a Biographical Annual. This year these tables are being issued as a separate book, called Who's Who Year Book.

Owing to the continually increasing number of biographies in Who's Who, the task of sending proofs grows year by year more heavy; this work would be greatly facilitated if every one would add to his or her biography an address, or the name of a club to which correspondence might be sent.

INCORP.

IN THIS SOCIETY are combined the advantages of
MUTUAL ASSURANCE with MODERATE PREMIUMS.

THE PREMIUMS are so moderate that an Assurance of £1200 or thereby may generally be secured from the first for the yearly payment which usually would be charged for £1000 only (with profits)—equivalent to an immediate and certain Bonus of 20 per cent.

THE WHOLE SURPLUS goes to the Policyholders on a system at once safe and equitable no share being given to those by whose early death there is a loss.

Examples of Premiums for £100 at Death—with Profits.

Age	25	30	35	40	45	50	55
During 1 life	£3 27 5	£2 2 4	£2 8 6	£2 16 6	£3 8 2	£4 1 2	£5 2 1
25 Payments	2 9 8	2 13 11	2 19 3	3 5 11	3 15 11	4 6 8	5 5 8
15 Payments	3 7 5	3 13 2	3 19 11	4 7 11	4 18 6	5 11 2	6 6 7

A person of 30 may secure £1000 at death by a yearly payment, during life, of £21 3 4. This premium would generally elsewhere secure less than £900 (with profits) instead of £1000. Or he may

The Surplus at the 1901 Investigation was £1,581,000.

Over 60 per cent of the Members who died during the Septennium were entitled to Bonuses which, notwithstanding that the Premiums do not as a rule exceed the non-profit rates of other Offices, were, on the average, equal to an addition of over 50 per cent to the Original Assurances.

ENDOWMENT ASSURANCE—SPECIAL CLASS—WITH PROFITS

AN ATTRACTIVE COMBINATION OF AN IMMEDIATE ASSURANCE WITH PROVISION FOR ADVANCED AGE. FULL INFORMATION ON APPLICATION.

The ACCUMULATED FUNDS exceed £12,500,000

Falmouth, Eng., 2 June 1814. m. 1841. Educ. Falmouth Proprietary School. Followed profession of surveyor and civil engineer in England till 1841, arrived in New Zealand, 1842, engaged immediately in surveying districts now known as Waimea East and Stoke, and divided them into allotments of 50 acres to the number of 220, thus enabling the land purchasers from the New Zealand Company to occupy their lands hitherto unallotted, then in connection with his partner, Mr. Thompson, similarly surveyed and subdivided 10,000 acres of the Moutere forest and valley, then occupied in various surveys till 1843, when they undertook a survey at the Wairau, where two other survey parties were similarly engaged, these operations were attended by the most deplorable results, the natives had all along declared their determination to prevent the survey and occupation of the Wairau lands by the settlers, and they had obstructed and removed two of the three survey parties, his party being strong, and the survey being smaller than the others, it was finished at the time of the Maori obstructionist arrival at the Wairau, and his party had returned to Nelson, all except himself who remained and accompanied the magistrate and armed party who came from Nelson to enforce possession of the land in dispute, the party opposing the Maories numbered 48 in all—24 of whom lost their lives in the attack and subsequent massacre, in 1844 he occupied and cultivated his land on the Waimea swamp, which soon became a fertile farm, during a portion of 1844 was engaged with Mr. Tuckett, chief surveyor of the New Zealand Company, in exploring the middle island in search of a suitable site for the Church of Scotland settlement, which resulted in the selection of Otago, when the Constitution Act came into operation with its six Local Parliaments, he became a member of the Provincial Council of Nelson, and continued his membership during the 23 years of provincialism, being its Speaker throughout except in the first session, at the same time took a full share in connection with the several local bodies, whether Road Boards, Land Board, School Committee, Education Board, or Board of College Governors, and was a member of the successive Synods of the Church of England. Address Waimea, Nelson, N.Z.

CARLOS, Don, Duke of Madrid, b. Laibach, 30 March 1845, m. 1st 1867, Marguerite (d. 1893), Princess of Bourbon-Parma; 2nd, 1894, Marie Berthe, Princess de Rohan. Don Carlos, grand nephew of Ferdinand VII., claims the Crown of Spain on the ground that Isabella, d. of Ferdinand VII. and Christina, and mother of Alfonso XII., owing to the Salic law, was debarred from the succession. Like his grandfather and uncle, who as Charles V. and Charles VI. fought for their rights (the former during 7 and the latter during 3 years), Don Carlos took up arms in 1872, and reigned as Charles VII. over the greater part of Northern Spain until 1876, when, being surrounded by the forces of Alfonso XII., who had recently been proclaimed King at Madrid, he retired into France. As the undisputed senior heir male of the House of Bourbon, Don Carlos would have a distinct right to the throne of France in the event of a monarchical restoration, but though frequently invited by the royalists of that country to put forward his claim, he has always abstained from doing so. Hon.: Don Jaime, b. 1870, an officer in the Russian Army. Address: Palazzo Loredan, Venice.

CORELLI, Marie, novelist, of mingled Italian and Scotch (Highland) parentage and connections, adopted in infancy by Charles Mackay, the well-known song, writer and librettist, and brought up during childhood in England. Afterwards went to France and educated in a convent where she received, with other instruction, a first class musical training. She commenced to write an elaborate opera entitled Ginevra Da Siena when barely fourteen. She also wrote two songs, My Sweet Sweetest, and Bonnie a Good Night. Her first attempts in literature were three sonnets on Shakespearean themes, and were published by Clement Scott, then editor of The Theatre. They were entitled Bonnie and Juliet, Hosaland, and Deadendona, and were written while still at work on her musical education, her adopted father's intention being to fit her entirely for a musical career. A curious psychical experience occurring to herself personally, caused her to write her first book, A Romance of Two Worlds, published in 1886. It was an instant success, and from that time she has devoted herself entirely to literature. She has never, however, abandoned her love of music, and is a proficient on the piano and mandolin. She has no particular hobbies except a great love of flowers, and a taste for collecting rare old books, of which she has many unique specimens. Her favourite recreations are reading and music. She is unmarried. At the end of 1897 a dangerous illness, nearly ending in her death, interrupted her work, and while slowly recovering from this during the spring of 1898, George Eric Mackay (second son of Charles Mackay), who had been nominated at his father's death as her legal guardian, being many years her senior, died suddenly of pneumonia, leaving her entirely alone in the world. The shock of this bereavement prostrated her again with serious illness, and it was not till the end of April 1899 that she recommenced her literary labours, and in fifteen months produced Boy, a sketch (a short story contracted for previously to her illness in 1897) and The Master Christian, both published in the summer of 1900. Her health is now fully re-established. She has given up her house in London and resides in Stratford-on-Avon. Publications A Romance of Two Worlds, 1886, Vendetta, 1886, Thelma, 1887, Ardath, 1889, Soul of Faith, 1902, Barabbas, 1893, The Sorrows of Satan, 1895, Mighty Atom, 1896, The Murder of Delicia, 1896, Ziska, The Problem of a Wicked Soul, 1897, Jane, 1897, Boy, 1900, The Master Christian, 1900, The pot of Power, A Study in Supremacy, 1902.
